

THE SOCIETY FOR ORGANIC PETROLOGY
THE SPACKMAN AWARD
TSOP Research Committee Student Grants Program

PURPOSE

The Spackman Award, formerly known as the TSOP Student Grants Program, supports graduate thesis research in organic petrology. Research must demonstrate the utility and significance of organic petrology (which includes coal petrology, kerogen petrology, organic geochemistry and related disciplines) in solving the thesis problem.

ELIGIBILITY

The Spackman Award supports qualified graduate students from around the world who are actively seeking advanced degrees. Applicants who have previously been granted a Spackman Award are not eligible to apply for a second grant under the scheme.

AWARDS

Awards up to U.S. $1,000.00 each will be granted. All applicants, whether successful or unsuccessful, are eligible to apply for one year of TSOP Student Membership at no cost.

CONDITIONS

Monetary awards are to be applied to expenses directly related to the student's thesis work, such as field expenses, laboratory analyses, etc. A portion (not to exceed 25%) of the award funds may be used to attend a TSOP Annual Meeting. Funds should not be used to purchase capital equipment, to pay salaries, tuition, room, or board during the school year. Funds must be spent by the end of the calendar year following granting of the award, and an account of expenditure with copies of receipts should be provided by the end of that year (December 31, 2019 for awards granted in 2018).

Note: Prior to preparing these sections, applicants are encouraged to review the “Application Evaluation Form” (see page 5-6) and “Procedure for Reviewing the Applications” (see page 7) that TSOP reviewers will be using to rank your proposal.

SECTION C. VITA (three pages maximum.)

The purpose of this section is to enhance the information you supplied above in Section B. You must clearly address each of the following areas:

- 1) Funding (past, present, and pending). Describe all internal and external financial support for your graduate studies, such as assistantships, scholarships, grants-in-aid; include dollar amounts.
- 2) Academic Awards and Honours (undergraduate and graduate, with dates and sources).
- 3) Non-academic Awards and Honours (with dates and sources).
- 4) Professional Work Experience (job title, employer, location, dates).
- 5) Other Work Experience (e.g.: volunteer, part-time) that demonstrate non-technical skills such as leadership, communication, teamwork etc. (job title, employer, location, dates).
- 6) Professional Activities (e.g.: society memberships, meetings attended, publications, presentations) that illustrate your involvement in the science beyond the classroom.
- 7) Other Activities and Interests (e.g.: clubs, civic organizations, community groups, hobbies).
- 8) Additional Information. Any other items that you believe will help the reviewers make decisions concerning your overall accomplishments and activities to date.

SECTION D. SUMMARY OF INVESTIGATION (three pages maximum.)

Write a summary of your thesis research. You must clearly address each of the following areas: 1) statement of the problem including its scientific significance; 2) major hypothesis; 3) research plan; 4) applications and significance of organic petrology in solving the problem; and 5) current status of your research including summary of results (if any) so far.

SECTION E. BUDGET PROPOSAL AND JUSTIFICATION (one page maximum.)

In a table, list the specific items (costed in US dollars) that you are requesting through the Spackman Award, and show the approximate dates for each expenditure item. (Grant money will be available immediately after the announcement of the Award and funds must be expended by the end of the following calendar year.) Add a brief narrative explaining how the proposed items will be utilized in your project, and how funding your request will add value (opportunities, data, etc.) to your research.

SECTION F. ACADEMIC TRANSCRIPTS

Attach a copy of your post-graduate academic transcripts. If you have completed one year or less of post-graduate course work at the time of your application, include your undergraduate transcripts as well. (If your university does not issue transcripts, attach instead a signed statement from your research supervisor commenting in detail on your academic credentials.)

TSOP SPACKMAN AWARD PROCEDURE FOR REVIEWING APPLICATIONS

A subcommittee of at least three TSOP members (and/or external experts when needed) appointed by the Research Committee Chairperson will independently review the pool of applications and score each of them according to the "Application Evaluation Form". The reviewers will be drawn from people who have no association with the host institution of any applicant. The points awarded in each category should be based on how well the individual compares to all others in the pool. Reviewers should also record their comments, questions, or concerns about specific applications on the evaluation form.

The TSOP Research Committee Chairperson will sum the numeric results received from all three reviewers in order to determine an overall ranking for each application. The Chairperson will inform the reviewers of the overall result and make recommendations at which time reviewers may be asked to hold further discussion. The Chairperson will then poll the reviewers and report their consensus decision and funding recommendations to TSOP Council for final approval.

Winners will be notified prior to the Annual Meeting and all applicants will be informed by email of the final status of their applications. No other information, such as specific scores, rankings, or written comments will be disclosed.

Awards will be announced formally and presented at the TSOP Annual Meeting during the Business Luncheon. The awards also will be announced in the TSOP Newsletter, which will publish the winners' submitted project summaries. At the conclusion of the research project, awardees are required to publish an extended summary in the TSOP Newsletter and will be encouraged to present their research results at a TSOP Annual Meeting.

Unsuccessful applicants are encouraged to re-apply to the Spackman Award Program. All applicants are eligible to apply for one year of TSOP Student Membership at no cost. Funds must be spent by the end of the calendar year following granting of the award, and an account of expenditure with copies of receipts should be provided by the end of that year (December 31, 2018 for awards granted in 2017).
